English language pathways to UWA degrees

UWA CELT offers two options to improve English language proficiency to the level required by the University for entry into its undergraduate and postgraduate programs.

OPTION 1: Academic English and Study Skills Bridging Course

(CRICOS course code: 026607K)

The most common and recommended pathway is via UWA CELT's Academic English and Study Skills Bridging Course (Bridging Course).¹

The Bridging Course has been granted NEAS Premium Product Endorsement. There are three intakes per year which align with the UWA semester 1 and 2 start dates. Each intake has Module 1 (10 weeks) and Module 2 (10 weeks) with different English language entry requirements for each Module. In addition, Module 1 is developed to further support language improvement and skill development. Module 2 is designed to further hone language skills via research and critical analysis using their discipline area.

The Bridging Course has been designed for international students who wish to study at UWA but do not have the required level of English language proficiency.

The Bridging Course program is also suitable for students with unconditional entry into UWA who would like to further develop their confidence, language ability and to better cope with the demands of the academic environment before starting tertiary studies.

A 70 per cent pass in the Bridging Course meets the University's English language requirement for most undergraduate and postgraduate courses that require an IELTS of 6.5 with no band below 6.0. However, some courses at UWA have higher entry requirements. Please refer to UWA's English Language Requirements page for full details: <https://www.uwa.edu.au/study/how-to-apply/english-language-requirements>

The Bridging Course will help students to:

- Improve English language skills to the level required by UWA
- Learn about the organisation and language of various types of academic texts
- Develop knowledge of the language of their chosen discipline
- Develop an understanding of the Australian academic and research culture
- Develop a high level of analytical and reflective skills in an Australian academic context
- Work on a research paper and portfolio in their discipline area and on research presentations
- Develop strategies to attribute literary sources appropriately
- Develop the capacity to be autonomous learners at an Australian university with the confidence to participate freely and appropriately in academic situations

OPTION 2: English for Academic Purposes (EAP) + IELTS/TOEFL examination

An alternative pathway for university entrance is available through our English for Academic Purposes program, together with preparation for the IELTS or TOEFL examination.

English for Academic Purposes is a structured course offered in five-week modules but is modified every term to meet the needs of the class group.

The 20-hour per week course is tailored to the knowledge and ability of its students, offering a highly supportive means to develop academic skills and English language ability. This focus on student needs incorporates assessment of achievements according to the composition of each class. For this reason, students choosing to study English for Academic Purposes must also sit an IELTS or internet-based TOEFL examination.

EAP CAN ALSO PROVIDE A PATHWAY TO EXCHANGE & STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS - WITHOUT ADDITIONAL IELTS/TOEFL TESTING. FOR MORE INFORMATION PLEASE VISIT: study.uwa.edu.au/courses-and-careers/study-abroad-and-student-exchange

English language courses

UWA CELT offers accredited English language programs in Language and Communication Essentials, English for Academic Purposes as well as preparation for internationally recognised examinations such as IELTS. Choosing the best course for you will depend on your goals and level of language ability. These classes are also a pathway to all other English language programs at UWA and UWA College.

Note: Language and Communication Essentials students are placed into classes based on verified scores obtained in IELTS, TOEFL or PTE exams. Other exams or qualifications may be provided to determine Recognition of Prior Learning, such as WACE qualifications or prior learning at another English Australia member language centre. Should no proof of English be available, students will be given a Placement Test to complete that equates to the Common European Framework of Reference Levels.

Study tours

If a student group wants to get a taste of UWA and UWA CELT, a short-term study tour that combines any or all of the following – academic study, Australian culture and English language – could be just the answer.

UWA CELT organises three broad categories of courses for groups of participants.

Open programs

This course gives participants with different levels of English ability the opportunity to take part in the UWA Centre for English Language Teaching courses such as Language and Communication Essentials, Academic English and examination preparation with other international students.

Closed programs

These individually tailored courses are designed for the needs of each particular group. In this kind of course, participants tend to stay together in the one class, and it is preferable that students are of similar language ability. These individually tailored programs are for groups of participants from high schools, university faculties, corporations, government and cultural bodies. The programs vary in duration from four days to 12 weeks and generally fall into one of four types: UWA Experience (with a focus on discipline areas such as engineering, physics, biochemistry, law, agriculture, business and medicine), Australian Culture, English for Specific Purposes and TESOL Professional Development. These individually tailored programs can be offered throughout the academic year and delivered across varying levels of English proficiency.

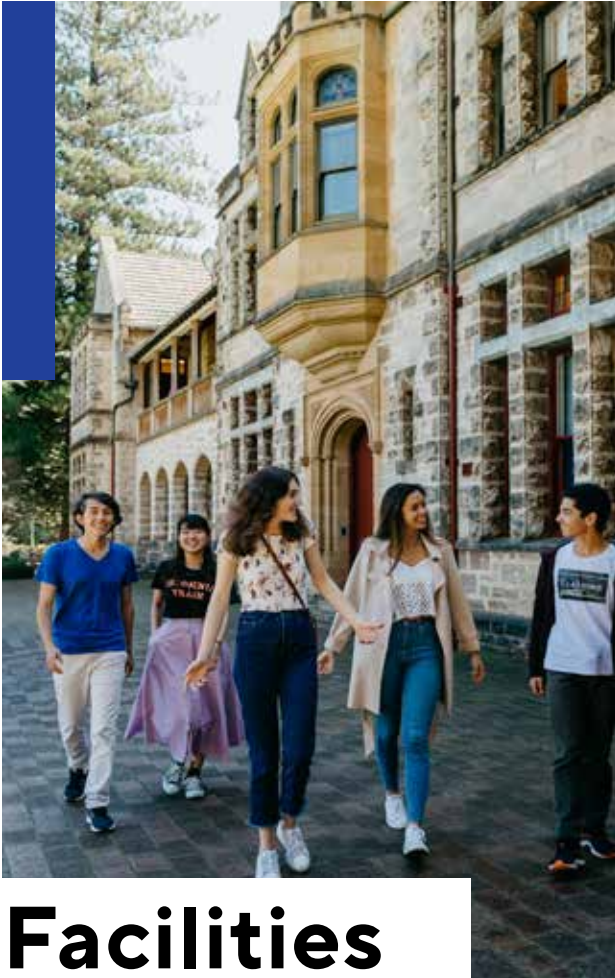

Hybrid programs

This is a combination of both the open and closed class options. The morning gives participants the opportunity to take part in UWA CELT's open class Language and Communication Essentials and Academic English courses. The afternoon gives participants the opportunity to study with a focus on a particular discipline area, or the chance to include any number of cultural activities to enrich their experience.
