

THE UNIVERSITY OF
WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Summer Down Under Research Internship

Established in 1911, The University of Western Australia (UWA) is Western Australia's leading university. The University enjoys an international reputation for teaching and research excellence, and is a member of the prestigious Group of Eight.

This bespoke 8-week intensive research training program is an opportunity for international students considering a UWA postgraduate research degree to get an insider look at UWA's research specialties, meet and work with a potential future supervisor, and experience the richness of Australian culture.
