Congratulations on being offered a place at UWA. We’re delighted you’re joining us for your postgraduate studies.

Now you’ve accepted your offer, your journey at UWA begins.

This guide is designed to give you essential information to lead you through the next three stages of Preparing for Enrolment, Enrolment and Orientation.

It complements the UniStart website uwa.edu.au/unistart, which is your official guide through the process.

UniStart has four steps:

- Accepting your offer
- Preparing for enrolment
- Enrolment
- Orientation

Make sure you log on to UniStart and follow each step. Use the tools available to create your personal study plan and manage your timetable and orientation schedule.
Step 2    Preparing for enrolment

Activate your online UWA student account (Pheme)
Before you can enrol you must activate your online student account (Pheme) at pheme.uwa.edu.au This gives you access to important online systems, including:

- studentConnect – manage your enrolment and personal details online and view your academic record and exam timetables
- Student email – the University’s official means of communication with students;
- My Library Account – check when your library items are due, make renewals requests, view your unit readings, access the UWA library catalogue
- OneSearch – find and access library resources and unit readings
- Learning Management System (LMS) – access unit materials including online discussions boards, unit outlines and handouts
- Lecture Capture System (LCS) – access online lecture recordings
- Class Allocation System (CAS) – nominate your preferences for class times

To activate your Pheme account you will need:

- your eight digit student number in your offer letter
- your date of birth.

Check your UWA student email regularly
Your student email is where you’ll receive important communications from the University about enrolment, fees, exams, and library loans, as well as direct communication from University staff. To check your student email, go to mail.student.uwa.edu.au

Your student email address begins with your eight digit student number followed by @student.uwa.edu.au

For example:

12345678@student.uwa.edu.au

The UWA Students Facebook page is another useful way of keeping up-to-date with events, programs and activities on campus. Find us at: facebook.com/UWAstudents

360 Degrees is a monthly student newsletter which enables you to keep up to date on important University announcements, exciting opportunities, upcoming events and news from around campus.

Remember to check your student email regularly. It’s UWA’s official way of communicating with you!
Choose your units
Before you enrol, you need to decide which units to take in Semester 1 and Semester 2. When choosing your units it’s important to consider:

- Your degree requirements – available in the University’s online handbook: handbooks.uwa.edu.au/postgraduate
- Your personal interests and career goals. Careers advice is available from the Careers Centre: careers.uwa.edu.au
- The availability of units (Semester 1, Semester 2, or non-standard teaching periods)
- Unit rules (including prerequisites, co-requisites and incompatibilities)
- When classes will be held (You can view the projected timetable for all units here: http://timetable.applications.uwa.edu.au/draft.html)

What study load you want to take – full-time or part-time.

International students are normally required to study full time (four units, worth six credit points each) in order to meet their visa conditions. For more information about requirements for international students contact the International Student Support team: help-international@uwa.edu.au

For domestic students a study load of three units or above is considered full-time study.

The University’s online postgraduate handbook is a good place to start when planning your enrolment. handbooks.uwa.edu.au/postgraduate

Course advice is available from your Student Advising Office. Speak to a course adviser to learn more about your course and for help choosing your units. Discover your Student Advising Office.
Step 3  Enrolment

Now you’ve done the preparation work, it’s time to get enrolled at UWA.

If you’re a domestic student or full-degree international student, you’re encouraged to enrol online yourself. If you have difficulties enrolling you can attend an enrolment support drop-in session in person.

Online enrolments
Once you’ve put together your study plan, enrolling in your units via studentConnect is easy!

- Log on to studentConnect using your student number and Pheme password.
- Go to ‘Course Details’ and ‘Online Enrolment’, then follow the prompts to add your units for the entire academic year.
- If you’re enrolling for the first time, you will be asked to answer some administrative questions (such as confirming your personal details) before you can select your units. This is also where you will be prompted to fill out an application for HECS-Help if you are eligible.

Enrolment help drop-in sessions
In-person help sessions are available for any new students who need further assistance.

If you are going to attend a session in person, please ensure that you:
- check the UniStart website to find out when the session is scheduled
- bring the required proof of identity and citizenship documents
- come prepared, having consulted with your Faculty regarding unit selection and course advice.

If you need guidance, we’re here to help. Contact your Student Advising Office or the Transition Services team on 6488 6789. Discover your Student Advising Office.

Remember, if you haven’t accepted your offer and activated your UWA student account you won’t be able to enrol (see the Preparing for Enrolment section).
Your timetable

Working out your timetable is an important part of managing your enrolment. Each unit you enrol in will require you to attend a number of classes, which may include:

- Lectures
- Tutorials
- Seminars
- Workshops
- Labs (laboratory classes)
- Information sessions

The Class Allocation System (CAS) is the online system that allocates you to classes and generates your timetable. In CAS you can:

- lodge your preferred class times for each unit (if available)
- check which classes you have been assigned to once the allocations are released

Visit the CAS website: cas.uwa.edu.au/student to find out how to register, when CAS opens and closes, and when class allocations will be published. Just use your student number and Pheme password to log in.

If an activity within your enrolled unit is full, there may be an option to request a Swap within CAS. You can request a Swap by selecting the heart icon associated with that activity. Your swap will be processed if a place in that activity becomes available.

For assistance with CAS:

- Check out the help videos for new students available at: cas.uwa.edu.au/student.
- Attend a drop-in session for hands-on assistance. Help sessions are run during the enrolment period – visit the UniStart website for details.
- Ask for help at the Information Desk at your Subject Library or online via askUWA.

You can also contact the Transition Services team – transition@uwa.edu.au

If a unit is not available for registration through CAS you will be given instructions on how classes will be assigned by your unit coordinator, usually via email or the unit Learning Management System (LMS) page.

You can find out if a class is recorded and available online through LMS. Online recordings are useful if you’re unable to attend class or have a class clash.

Remember, organising your timetable is your responsibility!

Changing your enrolment

You can change your unit enrolment up until the end of the first week of semester via studentConnect. If you’re not happy with your unit choices or your interests change, contact your Student Advising Office for further advice on what’s best for you.

The Transition Services team is also available to help with any difficulties you have in managing your timetable and can refer you to other services, if required.
Collect your Campus Card
Your UWA Campus Card is important as it provides:
- proof of identification (compulsory for examinations)
- library borrowing and electronic database access
- cash storage for copying and printing
- access to buildings.

Once you’ve activated your Pheme account and enrolled in units, upload a photo of yourself through CaptureMe and we’ll provide you with the details of when and where to pick up your card – it’s that easy!

More information on obtaining your card can be found at campuscard.uwa.edu.au/obtain-card/students

Remember to bring photo identification and proof of citizenship when you come to collect your Campus Card.

Fees
It’s your responsibility to ensure you’re aware of the fee obligations that apply to you. These may include:
- Tuition fees
- Student Services and Amenities Fee (compulsory for all students)
- Administrative fees and charges

Tuition fees are applicable to a large number of postgraduate coursework programs. More information about tuition fees is available online at student.uwa.edu.au/course/fees/tuition

Domestic students may be eligible for FEE-HELP loans to pay for all or part of their tuition fees. Information about FEE-HELP loans and how to apply is available from Student Administration or at studyassist.gov.au/help-loans-and-csps

As part of the acceptance process all international students need to make their first payment in order to accept their offer, thereafter in subsequent semesters international students will receive an electronic statement of account (eSOA) to their studentConnect account under the Finance section for each fee period/semester. The finance section of studentConnect also contains your eSOA each semester for the Student Services and Amenities Fee (SSAF). For queries and assistance, contact Student Administration on 6488 3235 or via askUWA.

For further information on student fees and charges, including the fees calculator, visit: student.uwa.edu.au/course/fees

Remember, outstanding fees may prevent you from enrolling, accessing your results, graduating and ordering transcripts.
Orientation is a vital part of your preparation for academic success. Completing a comprehensive orientation will provide you with the skills, knowledge and tools for a rewarding student experience – don’t miss it!

O-Week
O-Week is held in the week before semester begins. Key events include:
- The Welcome Ceremony
- Information sessions
- Campus tours
- Faculty specific activities.

Faculty orientation activities vary between faculties. Refer to your Faculty or the UniStart website for more information.

All students are required to attend Orientation. If you are unavailable during the formal Orientation week, you’ll be required to attend Late Orientation during Week 2 of semester. Contact transition@uwa.edu.au for more information.

There is a 6 week program called UWAConnect, which is an initiative which aims to connect new and current students with services, activities and your peers through a series of six themed weeks. The themed weeks run as an extension to the traditional Orientation program.

Contact postgrad-help@uwa.edu.au for more information.

Academic orientation
Your academic orientation also includes an online self-paced unit which is designed to make you aware of your academic responsibilities and help you gain the skills for a successful start to your studies at UWA.

All new students must complete this unit in their first semester at UWA, even if they have previously studied at another university. It is a not-for-credit unit and does not count towards your semester study load. It’s a good idea to complete it early in semester, to gain the maximum benefit.

Academic Conduct Essentials (ACE)
AACE4000 Academic Conduct Essentials (ACE) introduces you to the basic issues of ethical scholarship and the expectations of correct academic conduct at this University. The fostering of academic integrity is given high priority at UWA and is supported by institutional policies and practices.

More information about ACE is available at: student.uwa.edu.au/learning/resources/ace. You should be pre-enrolled in this unit so get online and begin your course early!
Unit materials

Once you’re enrolled, check your unit outlines to find out what materials are required for your units (textbooks, recommended readings, and study aids such as calculators, lab coats and safety glasses.). Unit outlines are available via the unit LMS page which will become available in the week prior to the start of classes. Once you’ve enrolled, you can also access textbook lists online through studentConnect.

Textbooks are available from:

- the Co-op Bookshop in the Guild village or online coop.com.au; 6144 5700;
- the second-hand bookshop in the Guild village
- The online textbook exchange – guildtexchange.com or
- the University Library – if relevant, find your unit reading list on your unit outline or in your LMS unit; then access the unit readings through OneSearch on the Library homepage: library.uwa.edu.au

Limited numbers of textbooks are available in the subject libraries. High-demand items have a three-hour loan period. Standard loans are six weeks but may be recalled earlier. These may include articles, book chapters, websites, as well as textbooks, DVDs/videos, CDs, eBooks and past examination papers.

Other unit materials, including calculators and lab coats, can be purchased from the Co-op Bookshop. In order to use your calculator in exams and assessments, you’ll need to check the approved calculators list ecm.uwa.edu.au/students/exams/calculators and visit one of the following, appropriate student advising office, libraries, Student Central and the Co-Op Bookshop to have your calculator approved and receive a sticker. Pre-approved calculators can be purchased from the Co-op Bookshop.

Assessment

Each unit has its own methods of assessment, usually involving a combination of essays, smaller written assignments or worksheets, exams, tutorial presentations, attendance and/or practical components. Check your unit outline for details. Your unit coordinator can answer any queries. Find unit details via the University Handbook handbooks.uwa.edu.au/units
University libraries
Our libraries provide physical and online information resources, study spaces, research assistance and IT support for your study and research at UWA.

Find us online
The library website is your first stop for library resources and information.
library.uwa.edu.au

Get your bearings
With six subject libraries on campus, you’re sure to find a study space or group study room to meet your needs.

Visit the information desk for advice and support, including help with Unifi, Pheme, CAS, LMS, Turnitin, webmail, printing and more.

Stay up-to-date by following us on Facebook and Twitter @UWALibrary.

Check our website for tours of your library in the first weeks of semester.

Meet your subject librarian
Your subject librarian is an expert on:
• OneSearch
• key databases
• advanced search techniques
• EndNote

Access online resources
Sign in to OneSearch to find and access the full range of resources.

Get started with a subject guide
See our guides for databases, websites, referencing and more.

Download the EndNote referencing software and book into a class from the EndNote guide.

Get connected
Connect your mobile devices to the UWA wireless network, Unifi. It’s easy — just log in with your student number and Pheme password.

Print on the run
A large number of computers are available in subject libraries and computer labs. Use your campus card to print to any student printer; even from your own device.
Transport

Make sure you’ve thought about how you’ll get to and from campus each day.

You are encouraged to use public transport. There are a large number of bus and train services available. For more information:

• Visit the Transperth website: transperth.wa.gov.au.
• Check out the UWA transport and parking guides for useful tips and resources, including a TravelSmart map: transport.uwa.edu.au.

A Tertiary SmartRider will help you make the most of concession fares for full-time students. You can buy a SmartRider from the Secondhand Bookshop in the Guild Village or from any authorised outlet (see the Transperth website for details). You need to register your SmartRider in StudentConnect to receive your concession.

You may apply for a yellow parking permit from the Parking Office, although there are postcode restrictions that do not allow students in certain suburbs to obtain a parking permit. The Parking Office is located in the Administration East building near Hackett Hall. For enquiries phone 6488 3020.

Safety and security

In the case of an emergency on campus, contact the 24-hour emergency number 6488 2222 or SMS 0438 739744. UWA Security will respond appropriately.

• Never leave your personal belongings (such as bags, wallets, laptops, bikes) unattended under any circumstances – this includes in libraries, cafés and other University buildings, or outside. Cars parked on campus are not covered by University insurance.
• Keep your personal details secure, including passwords, Campus Card, bank cards, Tax File Number, passport.
• Take responsibility for your personal safety – walk in well-lit areas with a friend or crowd; wait for buses in open populated areas; phone a taxi instead of hailing, wait with a friend and record the taxi number.
• UWA Security can escort you after hours to car parks, colleges, bus stops and accommodation immediately adjacent to the University. If required, contact Security 30 minutes before you want to leave and a uniformed officer will respond (6488 3020).

For more information, or to report a theft or incident, visit the Security website: security.uwa.edu.au/
Health and wellbeing
The University Medical Centre provides comprehensive medical care to staff and students and is located in the Guild Village (2nd floor, South Wing). Appointments can be made online or by phone (6488 2118). For more information visit: student.uwa.edu.au/experience/health/medical-centre.

International students are required to have Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the duration of their student visa. See the OSHC counter in Student Central for queries or assistance.

A free counselling service is also available to assist with any personal or academic concerns that may impact on ability to study. Appointments can be made at the Health and Wellbeing Reception (first floor Student Central; 6488 2423: student.uwa.edu.au/experience/health/counselling.

For tips, resources and health and wellbeing programs, check out the Fit for Study website: student.uwa.edu.au/experience/health/fit.

The UWA Chaplaincy is in the Law Link Building and support the spiritual life on campus of students of all cultural, religious and non-religious backgrounds. student.uwa.edu.au/experience/health/spiritual

A 24-hour telephone service is also available for people in crisis who need urgent help, when University services are closed (before 9am, after 5pm, weekends and holidays). Telephone: 9223 1111.

Rights and responsibilities
Get to know your rights and responsibilities as a UWA student. It’s important to know the academic and personal expectations that you’re expected to meet:

- The Charter of Student Rights and Responsibilities: student.uwa.edu.au/experience/charter
- Code of Ethics and Conduct: hr.uwa.edu.au/policies/policies/conduct/code
- Student rules: http://handbooks.uwa.edu.au/course-rules#id-55183
- Equity and diversity advisers are available for confidential advice with any issues: hr.uwa.edu.au/equity
Services to help you throughout your time at UWA

There are many free services available to make your transition to university life easier and support you throughout your studies. If you need some advice or are concerned about any aspect of life on campus, be sure to ask. Staff are here to help you.

Services for students

Located in Student Central building (just north of the Guild Village), our services include:

- StudySmarter – research skills, oral and written communication skills and numeracy skills
- careers advice
- transition programs to help you settle in to campus life (Transition Services, Student Transition Advisers and UniMentor)
- Counselling and Psychological Services
- UniAccess – UWA’s Disability Service
- Chaplaincy

All students, whether international or domestic, can access all of the support services listed above for free.

The Scholarships Office is located in Student Central and can provide advice about scholarships. (Telephone: 6488 3736). Find out if you’re eligible for scholarships: scholarships.uwa.edu.au

Student Administration in Student Central can help with issuing Campus Cards, answering questions about fees, examinations, graduation and issuing transcripts.

If you have questions, don’t forget askUWA provides online answers 24/7 and can save you waiting in a queue: ask.uwa.edu.au

Explore all the opportunities at the Current Students website: student.uwa.edu.au
Study Abroad
Did you know you can travel, live and study overseas while continuing to gain credit towards your UWA degree? Consider including a Student Exchange or Student Abroad program in your course. All UWA students can apply to study abroad including international students.

For more information visit the Study Abroad website: student.uwa.edu.au/experience/exchange

International students
International Student Support in Student Central (6488 2428) provides specialised advice for international students on their rights and responsibilities in relation to their visa requirements, overseas health cover and insurance, employment entitlements and other aspects of studying in Australia.

If you’re an international student visit the website for more information: student.uwa.edu.au/international/newstudents

Student Advising Offices
If you need course advice, you can speak with a Student Adviser in your Student Advising Office. You can find information on the location of Faculty offices at: ask.uwa.edu.au
UWA Student Guild
The Guild is an independent organisation run by elected student representatives. It represents the students of UWA to the University and the wider community and provides advocacy, financial support, and social activities for students.

The Guild Volunteering Hub volunteering.guild.uwa.edu.au also gives students the opportunity to gain community service experience.

All students can elect to become members of the Guild upon enrolment. If you decide not to become a member of the Guild, you may always sign up to become a member later through studentConnect.

Visit the Guild Student Centre in the Guild Village to get a free Guild Diary and Discount Booklet with useful tips and information.

Make sure to check out the Guild-run cafés across campus and explore the many facilities available in the Guild Village including:

- Bookshops
- Banks and ATMs
- Pharmacy
- Optometrist
- Dentist
- Print and copying service
- Travel agent
- Boot maker
- Computer store

Postgraduate Students Association
The Postgraduate Students Association (PSA) is a Guild department and is independent of the University administration. It is run by and for postgraduate students, and can provide advice and assistance on the range of issues students may face. The PSA also runs a number of social activities and administers grants and awards specifically for postgraduate students. The PSA represents postgraduate students on University committees from the Senate to the Faculty level. Membership of the PSA is free and automatic for all postgraduate students.

Information about issues and events relevant to postgraduate students are emailed to postgraduates subscribed to the mailing list.

To get in touch with the PSA, to find your local postgraduate representative, or to become involved, contact the PSA directly at psa@guild.uwa.edu.au.

UWA Sport
UWA Sport offers a wide range of recreation membership and participation opportunities. Visit the Recreation and Fitness Centre to build a healthy, active lifestyle: sport.uwa.edu.au
